

Church Lads' & Church Girls' Brigade Ulster Regiment – Going Places!

Summer Edition 2017

M A N C H E S T E R – Our thoughts and prayers are with you!

B.L.A.S.T. Fabulous Boy Band B.L.A.S.T. from St. Paul's, Lisburn, put on a great show at the Annual Service.

Gideons International

Older Brigade members will be presented with a CLCGB badged New Testament & Psalms from Gideons International. Members of the Ballymena, Carnmoney and Portrush Companies have already received theirs and it should not be long before others are distributed. Thank You Gideons!

Leprosy Mission A target of £800 was set by CLCGB for a Water Well that would provide leprosy affected households with clean water. £875 was raised and the extra £75 was allocated to a Farming Bundle to supply tools and seeds that will allow a community to grow some of its own food.

2nd in Command

John Williams has been appointed 2IC of the Ulster CLCGB. John takes over from Irene Hewitt who recently stepped down. Congratulations.

Canon J R Hall Canon Hall has died, aged 92 years. From Belturbet, Rev Hall was ordained in 1949 and served curacies in Seagoe and Christ Church, Lisburn. He was Incumbent at St. Michael's, Belfast, from 1959 to 1966, and then at Finaghy until he retired in 1969. In 1991, he became Chaplain to the Ulster Regiment and served with distinction in that position for all ten years that Jim Tweedie was Commanding Officer. 'He was a totally dedicated priest and pastor to his people,' commented Mr Tweedie.

People Profile - Paul Crowe Paul was born into a CLB family. His father, Harold, was the well-respected Captain of the Christ Church, Lisburn, Company. It was no surprise that Paul and his brothers, David and Stephen, became members of the CLB. Paul was involved with the Christ Church Company as a member and an Officer for nearly forty years.

After studying architecture in England, Paul went to work for Todd Architects, later buying into the Practice and nowadays is its Managing Director. Presently, Paul is the President of the Royal Society of Ulster Architects and represents Northern Ireland with a seat on the Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA).

Todd Architects has been involved in several major projects in Belfast including Citibank, Belfast Met, Titanic Studios and the Public Record Office for Northern Ireland (PRONI). Probably the firm's most prestigious project involved the building of Titanic Belfast's iconic structure. Paul was the lead architect on this venture which had a very large team, took three years to build and cost in the region of £90,000,000.

I asked Paul what he thought about Titanic Belfast being Winners of the World's Leading Visitor Attraction at the World Travel Awards for 2016. 'I was surprised but thought it was fantastic for Northern Ireland. Overseas visitors have been coming in phenomenal numbers and the centre is packed out when the large cruise liners are docked. The place is running like a 'good ship,' he said, 'if you'll pardon the pun.'
